

The Healing Power of Symbolic Memory: An Introduction to Pesso-Boyden System Psychomotor (PBSP) Theory

Join us for San Diego's first USBSPA introductory training event

PBSP® is a profound mind-body approach to psychotherapy that is recognized as a modality of choice whenever people are struggling with emotional challenges that originate in childhood. Unique processes called "structures" and "microtracking" help clients identify emotional deficits and create new memories that provide symbolic fulfillment of the basic developmental needs.

Training will consist of lecture and live demonstration by Dr. Jim Amundsen, Certified PBSP® Therapist, Supervisor, and Trainer. The program is designed to introduce PBSP® theory and practice to psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, marriage and family therapists, substance abuse counselors, mental health workers, and students in these fields.

Presenter: Jim Amundsen, PhD

Certified PBSP Therapist, Supervisor, and Trainer | President, North Central Psychomotor Society
PhD, Licensed Psychologist | M.Ministry, Earlham School of Religion
PhD, Counseling Psychology, The Fielding Institute

Friday, February 8, 2019

10 AM – 3 PM

Azusa Pacific University, San Diego Regional Campus
5353 Mission Center Road, Classroom 130
San Diego, CA 92108
4 CEUs | Cost $100 | Student Cost $75
Lunch Included | CEUs additional cost

Email Maya Heffernan (mheffernan.therapy@gmail.com) to sign up
Visit <https://pbspamericaconnect.org/events> to register and submit payment

USBSPA
www.pbspamericaconnect.org